WEBINARS

Session II: Lynn Koegel on early intervention

BY GREG BOUSTEAD

26 JUNE 2015

This is the replay for the session ‘Early Intervention,’ part of the Summer Institute for Autism Research, presented by the International Society for Autism Research and SFARI.org.

The six-course online series is intended for early-career investigators interested in autism research. More information about the entire program can be found at sfari.org/summer.

Lynn Koegel and a team of trainees worked together to prepare the presentation and materials. You can download the course materials that accompanied this session here.

Ask follow-up questions in the comments below and connect with peers in our private discussion group for researchers on Facebook.